

NOT COMPLETE YET

The Appointment of the Executive Committee Deferred.

WANT BETTER INFORMATION

It is Not Proposed to Go at This Silver Business Rough Shod—Talking About Permanent Headquarters.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The executive committee appointed by the democratic silver conference to effect a permanent organization, to-day decided not to attempt to complete the national committee for the present. The postponement was rendered necessary by the fact that the committee received the names of proposed members for the national organization from only the states represented at the conference. They consider it desirable that the best advice possible should be had in the selection of the committee, and, after discussing the work of obtaining the necessary information among the members, adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

Colonel Young said to-day it was the purpose of the executive committee to complete the national organization as soon as practicable. It is probable a meeting for the announcement of this committee will be held in some western city, and St. Louis has been suggested as the most conveniently located. There is some division of opinion as to where the headquarters should be. Some members advocate Washington, and others believe a western city is preferable.

THE WESTERN SOCIETY.

Chicago Will Be Permanent Headquarters—Other States to Exhibit.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—At a meeting of the Western Society last night it was decided to establish permanent headquarters in this city with exhibits from the different states. The object of the society is to furnish information to people desiring to locate in the western country. P. F. Daly, agent of the Canadian government, was admitted to cooperate with the Western Society. Mrs. Alice Houghton of Seattle, Wash., inaugurated this plan, and the purpose of last night's meeting was to secure the cooperation of the different states. The products of Montana, Washington, Idaho, Arizona, Minnesota, New Mexico and other western states and Canada will be exhibited.

He participated in all the principal battles. After the war he engaged largely in mining and railroad enterprises, met frequent reverses and died poor. He was 75 years old and married four times.

"A Trip to Wonderland."

Notwithstanding the present low rate to Yellowstone National park and return, the Northern Pacific has arranged with the Park Transportation company and Hotel association to join them in making a sweeping reduction for a special excursion from Butte. They have named a round trip rate of $50, which will include all expenses en route, railroad fare Butte to Cinnibar and return, a double berth each way in Pullman standard sleepers, stage transportation through the park, five and three-quarter days board and lodging. Aug. 24 has been selected for the date on which the excursion will leave Butte as at that time there will be no large parties going into the park and the Butte excursionists will actually have the park to themselves. The train will leave Butte at 10:20 p. m., arriving at Livingston the following morning, where breakfast will be taken at the Albemarle hotel. At 8 o'clock the train will leave for Cinnibar, arriving at 10:15 a. m. of the 25th, where the trip through the park will commence. The excursionists will leave the park Friday night, the 30th, at 8:30 p. m., reaching Butte Saturday morning at 3:15 a. m. The sleepers will be run both ways between Butte and Cinnibar avoiding change of cars at Livingston. The hotel accommodations in the park are strictly first-class with steam heat, electric lights, bath facilities. The stages are the finest in the world. People contemplating this trip need have no fear of crowding, as the excursion will be limited to a certain number. You should, therefore, lose no time in making arrangements for sleeping car, stage and hotel accommodations. For maps of the park showing route and points of interest visited in fact, giving all details in regard to the trip through the park, call on or write W. M. TUOHY, General Agent, Butte, S. D. BEEBE, Agent, Anaconda, Mont., R. J. DEE, Agent, Deer Lodge, Mont.

Lake Route to Boston. Those who intend taking the trip to Boston for the Knight Templar encampment should remember that the Lake route, Duluth to Buffalo, via the Northern Steamship Line, offers the most pleasant mode of travel between the points named during the hot summer months.

Instead of the trip, Duluth to Buffalo, being too long to suit the majority, as intimated by competing lines, the trip, 48 hours, is, in fact, so well employed in pleasurable employment that passengers regret leaving the boat at the end of the lake journey.

Avoid the long, hot and dusty rail trip. Enjoy the luxuries of the Great Northern Library-Buffet and Palace Sleeping Cars to Duluth. The Northern Steamship Company's passenger steamer Duluth to Buffalo, and choice of rail connections at the latter place for Boston. Return same route or via Fall River line to New York, thence to Albany via Hudson River Day Line steamers and all rail to starting point. Or, if desired, choice of rail lines returning.

The boats make only three stops between Duluth and Buffalo and carry no freight. Tickets will be placed on sale August 16th, that passengers may connect with steamer leaving Duluth Monday, August 19th. Also on August 20th, to connect with Friday's steamer August 23d.

State rooms and berths on the steamer should be secured several days before starting. For further information apply to J. E. Dawson, General Agent, 106 North Main Butte.

BIG TIMBER IS SHOCKED

One Man Had an Experience When the Mules He Was Driving Were Struck Dead—The Harvester Thrown From His Mower.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE STANDARD.

Livingston, Aug. 15.—Court Stenographer H. E. Jones, who returned from Big Timber yesterday, reports that Coblesstone City and vicinity was visited a few days ago by a terrible electrical storm. For the space of nearly an hour the angry elements of the air lashed themselves into a perfect fury. From out of the dark and portentous looking clouds vivid flashes of lightning shot in every direction, while the thunder roared like the booming of ten thousand cannon. The subtle substance of the clouds descended all around the town and crash followed crash in rapid succession. The whole artillery of heaven seemed to have been drawn up in a wide circle directly over the town of Big Timber, while huge billows in the angry sea. It was an aerial battle royal and the air for miles around seemed to be charged and surcharged with electricity. The strangest part of it all is that not a building in Big Timber was struck, although the lightning played havoc with telegraph poles and trees outside the city limits. Huge cottonwood trees were stripped of their limbs and telegraph poles were splintered into kindling wood. Mr. Jones said that in coming up on the train he noticed one big tree that had been struck by lightning. One of the splinters, probably 40 feet long and six inches in diameter, had been hurled more than 400 feet away. A little further on lightning had struck a telegraph pole near the top, winding around to the bottom and cutting out a narrow strip which lay close by, curled up like a long shaving. Though the groove in the pole did not run with the grain, it was as smooth and free from splinters as though it had been turned out by machinery. Another telegraph pole that Mr. Jones noticed had been shivered into a myriad of fragments, which were scattered around like so much dry and broken straw. The part of the pole that was left sticking out was a perfect cone of splinters, which stuck up thicker a hundred times than the thorns on a prickly pear.

No fatalities are reported, though several ranchers and by-hangers were knocked down and stunned. On the ranch of T. K. Lee near Big Timber, the hired man, whose name could not be learned, had about as narrow escape from instant death as he cares to experience. He was engaged in driving a mule with a span of mules attached, when he was knocked from the machine and rendered unconscious. When he came to he found himself in the grass in front of the side bar. The bolt of lightning which had sent him knocking down and stunned had struck his team and dropped both mules dead in their tracks.

DROP A PENNY IN THE SLOT

And Get a Prescription Telling You What You Need to Buy.

From the New York World.

Nickel-in-the-slot machines have been applied to many novel uses, but the queerest of all these catch-penny contrivances is one that gives you a prescription if you are sick and need one. These automatic doctors are of English origin, and at the present time may be found on street corners in many parts of London.

They are made of wood to the likeness of a man, and are about half the size of the American cigar store Indian. He is unlike the Bannock Indian, however, in that he is full of holes. All over the body, head and limbs of the figure are slots for the reception of the penny, for each hole for the prescription, and beneath the slot is the usual opening, from which the prescription issues after the penny has got in its final work.

These automata are the property of the London Automatic Prescription company, an incorporated concern which has among its shareholders not a few of the foremost physicians in London. At first a very few of the automata were put out by way of experiment, and the mistake was made of placing them in the fashionable promenades, such as Rotten row, Petticoat lane and portions of the Strand. Here the swell chaps whetted their curiosity for a time by dropping a penny in the slots, and then the wooden physicians got to be a colossal joke. In a short time, however, the automata were removed to the White-chapel district, where they met with a generous patronage from the poorer classes. Of course, these figures do not dispense medicines, as there would be an unsurmountable obstacle in the law. The prescription given by the figure for a penny is a good one, generally prescribing the standard remedy for ordinary ills, such as toothache, earache, headache, etc. Then there are antiseptic dressings for cuts and lacerations for bruises, tonic for the hair and salves for corns and bunions. In each case the prescription bears the name and business address of the apothecary whose shop is nearest to the automaton.

The Latest From South Africa.

Late advices from Johannesburg and other South African mining camps show that valuable properties are being constantly located.

Experienced miners, machinists, engineers, carpenters and timber men are always in demand at good wages, while fruit growing offers lucrative occupation to parties understanding the business and desiring to enter that field of industry.

Johannesburg, a city of 60,000 souls, is an excellent market for the various kinds of fruit, which may be raised in abundance in the vicinity of the town, at small cost. The only fruit growers in the country, being an indolent class, do not supply the demand.

Persons desiring to visit the "Coming Country" can obtain information by calling upon or addressing the undersigned, agent for a steamship line.

Safety, Speed and Comfort

Can be had by using the Northern Pacific. Their train is the first to reach St. Paul, notwithstanding the fact it does not leave Butte until 10:20 p. m., four hours and 30 minutes later than trains on any other line.
